Purple heart registration plate

Rep. Bruce Smith said today that the state's Motor Vehicle Bureau is issuing a new Purple Heart registration plate.

The new plate has the words "combat wounded veteran" across the top and "Pennsylvania" at the bottom in red. On a background of white, the border, the letter "PH", the five numbers and an embossed replica of the medal will be purple.

Recipients of the old-style plate can request a new plate with the same number combination they currently have. Cost of the new plate is $5. Individuals may choose to keep their old-style plate and not obtain the new one.

Smith said that forms needed to replace the old plate or apply for a Purple Heart registration plate for the first time are available at his district office at 540-B Industrial Drive, Fairview Industrial Park, Lewisberry, Pa. 17339. The telephone number is 938-4988.

Irwin named to dean's list

Todd M. Irwin, a 1988 graduate of Northern High School, was named to the Spring Semester Dean's List at Penn State Hazleton Campus. Todd is majoring in business. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Irwin.

Kloss receives Scholarship

Two county high school students have been awarded scholarships by the York County Conservation District to attend the Penn State Summer Conservation Leadership School being held July 1-14.

They are James Kloss from Northern High School and Jennifer Collins from Red Lion High School.

The Conservation Leadership School is a two week program for high school students interested in natural resource management, conservation, and solutions to environmental problems. The topics covered are forestry, water quality management, energy production and use, conservation legislation and regulation, public speaking, environmental issues, low impact recreation, general natural history, and personal lifestyle. As you can see this is not just another summer camp, this is an intensive two week program designed to assist students in channeling their education towards a career in resource conservation.

The students will be traveling to the Penn State Civil Engineering Camp at Penn State's rustic Stone Valley Recreation Area. The educational setting includes a 71 acre lake more than 7,700 acres of recreation area and the Penn State University Park Campus.

Summer reading program

The Northern York County School District will again be offering a summer school reading program utilizing the WICAT Computer-Managed Instruction System at Wellsville Elementary School. This year registration will be open to any student enrolled in the District, Chapter 1, or TELLS reading programs. Also, this year we will include any qualified middle school students. The program is tentatively scheduled to run for four weeks beginning on Monday, July 9 and concluding on Thursday, August 2. The program will be held in the morning, four days a week, Monday through Thursday, for approximately 1-1/2 to 2 hours. Exact times will not be established until a preliminary registration has shown the number and ages of those students interested in participating in the program. Class size will be limited to 32 students; however, there is a possibility that more than one class will be held if numbers warrant this.

Each student will be assigned his/her own learning station and will be working at a reading level appropriate to his/her ability. A qualified reading specialist will be monitoring the progress of each student. Several programs will be utilized in the class, including Reading 1 and 2, Language Arts and Word Processing. There will also be other activities away from the learning station itself, such as reading games, reading aloud to the students, and independent reading.

If you are interested in enrolling your child in the WICAT summer program, please contact the reading specialist who works with your child. This is a wonderful opportunity for your child to retain the skills he/she has been working on this year and get a better start in the fall.

Sprints and Limited Friday Daryl Gohn Memorial June 29

Another dual card program of open wheel racing is on tap this Friday, evening, June 22, at Williams Grove Speedway.

As usual sprint car racing is the main attraction and for the fourth time this season the Limited Sprint cars will be on the agenda.

Coming up on Friday night, June 29, the Super Sportsman division returns to Williams Grove along with the Sprint cars, who will be competing in the Daryl Gohn Memorial.

A mid-week, pre-holiday Sprint car special is coming up on Tuesday night, July 3, with the running of the Mitch Smith Memorial.

The World of Outlaws return for a two-day event on August 2-3.

Mackison returns from last weeks crash to win

Johnny Mackison shook off the effects of a spectacular crash a week earlier and returned to win the 25-lap sprint car feature on Friday night, June 8.

"He's tough," said car owner Michael Barshinger after watching his driver become the tenth different winner of the season in the Grove's sprint car division.

Mackison started fifth in the Hughes Wheel and Axle #65 and took the lead from Barry Camp with an inside move off turn two. Although Paul Lotier applied pressure in the closing laps Mackison was able to hold on for his third career victory.

"After what happened last week I was really motivated tonight," said Mackison, who earned $2500 for his performance.

Lotier finished second, Steve Smith third, Dave Kelly-fourth, Kenny Adams-fifth and finishing out the top ten were: Fred Rahner, Kenny Jacobs, Donnie Kreitz, Frankie Kerr and Camp.

Heats for the 34 sprint cars went to Camp, Joey Kuhn and Jesse Wentz. Kenny Jacobs won the consolation.

In the late model feature Jimmy McBee won.

Franklin township planning commission highlights

Deadline for receipt of plans for consideration at the July 10, 1990 meeting was set for 9 p.m. on June 26, 1990.

Delores Lehman discussed the possibility of establishing a different or extra driveway to a parcel of land she owns. Townships regulations were discussed and several suggestions were offered.

Michael Keller-Two Parcel Subdivision-Coffetown Road-Final Plan

The subdivision is to divide 2.1 acres (with frontage on Coffetown Road) off from the remainder of 7.234 acres. The commission voted to disapprove the plan due to the following items needing to be addressed: 1) lack of York County Planning Commission comments, 2) need set back for sides shown on plan for lot #3, 3) show power lines and other easements, etc. on plan, 4) notation on plan noting that a permit will be obtained from the Federal, State and local government for possible wetlands 5) storm water management plan needed, 6) clarification if sewage planning module approval from DER is needed, 7) investigation and clarification to sight distances on driveway, 8) residual parcel will have double frontage-subdivider would need to request waiver, in writing, because of ordinance regulations prohibiting this.
